$3,000 Ready For Students In Forestry Poster Contest

"Wonderful Wood – a Forest Product" – is the theme of the 20th annual Keep Virginia Green poster contest, which includes $3,000 in cash prizes for students, schools, and teachers. It will continue through December 15, by which time all posters must be submitted. The contest is open to all students in the first through twelfth grades of any school in Virginia.

With the theme, "Wonderful Wood – a Forest Product" posters should illustrate one or more of the many useful ways in which wood or any of its products (lumber, plywood, particle board, paper, chemicals, etc.) is used at home, on the farm, at school, or in industry.

There are a total of 731 student prizes, the top one being $200 cash. This year an extra $2,500 is available to winning students, under the new double-the-prize provision. In addition, the top four winning posters will be reproduced in full color on the 1972 KVG bookcovers which will be distributed to approximately one-third of a million Virginia students next fall. Other prizes have been established for

THEATRE OWNERS

TO TRAVEL

FOR TB ASSOC

The Virginia Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association will introduce Virginia's 1971 Honorary Christmas Seal Campaign Chairmen at its fall Board of Directors Meeting on Friday, October 22. Mr. and Mrs. David Kilgore and Muriel McAuley, co-owners, actors, and directors of the Barksdale Theatre in Hanover, will travel throughout the state during the Christmas Seal Campaign visiting many of the state association's 14 affiliates.

The fall meeting opened at 2:00 p.m. at the Executive Motor Hotel, with the VTRDA Youth Board of Directors joining the Board of Directors for its business meeting. The group gathered for a dinner meeting at Barksdale Theatre, where the honorary chairmen and VTRDA Youth Ambassador Debbie Sampson of Bristol, president of the State Youth Board, will be presented. Mrs. James C. Reg, Jr. VTRDA president, made special awards to the chairmen and the youth ambassador during intermission of the theatre's current production, "Old Wives' Tale." More than 100 people were expected for the combined meeting.

On Saturday, October 23, the Youth Board held its fall meeting at 9:00 a.m. at the Executive.

The Barksdale Theatre is the oldest dinner-theatre in the nation and is housed in the Hanover Tavern (built in the early 1700s) which the theatre group purchased 18 years ago.

David Kilgroe received his B. A. in speech and drama from Wayne State University in Detroit and his master's degree in speech and drama from the University of Florida. In addition to his work with the theatre in Hanover, he is associate professor of speech and drama at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland.

Nancy Kilgore holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Longwood College and started in the theatre as a dancer. She is a founder of Ballet Impromptu in Richmond, which ultimately became the Richmond Ballet. Muriel McAuley also attended Wayne State University, and from there went to New York where she became the first model for Anne Fogarty, the dress designer, prior to helping found the theatre.

The Kilgores and Miss McAuley will travel to Washington, D. C. , on November 10 to present 1971 Christmas Seals to Senator Harry F. Byrd, Jr., AND Senator William B. Spong Jr. At the same time, Jack Lemmon, popular actor and National Honorary Christmas Seal Campaign Chairman, will be presenting Christmas Seals to President Richard M. Nixon.

On December 22, the state chairmen will visit the Tidewater TB-RD Association for its volunteer awards luncheon at Hampton, where they will meet with Colonel Donn Eisele, Tidewater's Honorary Christmas Seal Chairman. Colonel Eisele is an astronaut with the Space Administration now stationed at Langley Research Center. In 1968, he flew on Apollo Seven, the 11-day maiden voyage of the Apollo spacecraft.

Contributions to the annual Christmas Seal Campaign are used for state and local programs, to combat tuberculosis, other respiratory diseases (including emphysema), air pollution, antismoking, and community health and welfare.

Dodson Opposes Real Estate Tax Increase

"I am firmly opposed to any further increase in real estate taxes in the rural areas of Virginia, particularly the counties of Southside Virginia," said Bertram F. Dodson, independent candidate for the State Senate, in a campaign statement this week.

He said he intends to make the tax question "the No. 1 issue" in his campaign.

Dodson, Campbell County cusiness man and tobacco farmer, is running for the Senate seat of the newly reorganized 18th Senatorial District. The district comprises the counties of Appomattox, Buckingham, Charlotte, Halifax, Prince Edward and most of Campbell, and the city of South Boston.

"The state legislature does not levy a real estate tax," Dodson pointed out, "So there is only one way a state legislator can help prevent further increases in real estate taxes. That is by working for a reallocation of state funds by means of a more equitable formula for the distribution of state funds for schools.

"If elected to the Senate next month, I pledge to work to achieve this goal."

Dodson, who was a member of the Campbell County Board of Supervisors eight years and chairman two years, said that "Southside Virginia is already making a greater real estate tax effort based on per capita income than are the counties of Henrico, Arlington, Fairfax and many other counties in the state."

He said that "80 to 90 per cent of your real estate taxes now goes for support of your local school system.

"In rural, agricultural counties that have little or no industry and no large shopping areas. There is no way the counties themselves can raise additional money for public school support without raising real estate taxes. Farmers, land owners, and small businessmen are already carrying a very heavy load of real estate taxes. No new ones should be added, and no old ones should be raised.

"I believe we can obtain a better allocation of present state funds, and an increase in the present level of state support for local schools, with vigorous and effective leadership in the State Senate.

"My opponent in this election, during his 14 years in the House of Delegates, has been altogether ineffective and lacking in leadership. He cannot provide the kind of representation this district needs. I earnestly and sincerely want to tackle this job and to give our people the kind of dedicated service that will be effective in Richmond."

Halloween Party

Robert E. Lee Academy is planning a Halloween party on Sat. Oct. 30 from 6:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the Woodmen of the World building.

Admission is only 10¢, and there will be door prizes, cake walk, fortune telling, fast games, apple bobbing and many other fun things to do including a costume contest and had a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. The bride's parents entertained with a reception at the home of Mrs. Frances Cheatham and Miss Mildred McDearmon. The reception table was decorated with arrangements of stock talisman and yellow roses.

Mrs. Patrick Lair, Jr., Pamplin, Mrs. Edwin Seagar, Alexandria, Mrs. Stuart Farrar, Pamplin, Mrs. Carroll Smith, Lynchburg, Miss Sue Blythe, Manassas, Miss Mary Yancey Spencer, Appomattox, and Mrs. Ann Ramsey, Pamplin, acted as hostesses for the reception and wore corsages of yellow carnations.

After the reception the couple left for a Northern wedding trip. For her trip the bride wore a powder blue wool dress with a blue and white plaid vest. Her corsage of white bridal orchids was lifted from her bouquet.

The couple will reside at 134 A Burns Street, Hampton, after October 30.

Miss McDearmon attended Mary Baldwin College in Staunton, Va., and is a graduate of Coker College in Hartsville, South Carolina.

She is presently teaching at Kecoughtan High School in Hampton, Virginia.

Mr. Lair graduated from Appomattox High School and attended Bluefield College and is now stationed in the United States Navy at Norfolk, Va.
